

DON'T MISS CONNECTICUT'S BIGGEST BUSINESS NETWORKING EVENT!

- ▶ Make sure you and your organization participate in this annual celebration
- ▶ Hear tech columnist David Pogue share his insights on innovation and technology
- ▶ Learn how 2017 impacted the business community and get a preview of what's ahead in 2018
- ▶ Network with business leaders from across the state

WHEN & WHERE

11.2.17

Hartford Marriott
Downtown
200 Columbus Blvd.

4:30 pm
Networking Reception

5:30 pm
Meeting & Keynote
with David Pogue

6:45 pm
Reception

SPONSORSHIP

$1,500

Includes multimedia recognition package
and 12 tickets

For complete details,
contact Joe Dias (860.244.1118;
joe.dias@cbia.com)

2017 ANNUAL MEETING & RECEPTION

SPECIAL GUEST

David Pogue

Where's technology headed and how will it disrupt your business? Take a leap into the future with special guest speaker David Pogue.

The tech columnist and best-selling author is one of the most entertaining, informative, and popular speakers out there today.

Whether he's covering self-driving cars, virtual reality, drones, "robot uprisings," the Internet of Things, or the latest in consumer electronics, Pogue proves that science and technology blend brilliantly with storytelling, humor, and frequently, music and song.

Pogue provides invaluable insights on how technology impacts our work, businesses, and connections with each other—now and into the future.

For 13 years, Pogue was the weekly personal technology columnist for The New York Times. He joined Yahoo in 2013, where he founded a new website for non-techies called Yahoo Tech. He's won three Emmy awards for his TV work, which includes hosting NOVA on PBS and as a correspondent for CBS Sunday Morning since 2002.

